

„Key skills of a modern teacher” – group II

Within the project “International mobility of school education staff” co-financed by the European Union in the framework of the European Social Fund, Operational Programme Knowledge Education Development, the second group of teachers from Zespół Szkół Mechanicznych nr 2 im. Tytusa Maksymiliana Hubera (ZSM no. 2) in Bydgoszcz, Poland participated in the training “Key skills of a modern teacher”, from the 18th to the 22nd of October 2021 in Granada, Spain.

On the 1st day of the training, the group tried to answer the question: “Who is a stellar teacher?” and defined different types of personality.

In the afternoon, within the framework of the cultural programme, the teachers visited the oldest district in Granada - Albaicin dating back to the 11th century.

The 2nd day of training in Granada included improving skills of active listening and challenging oneself. Within the framework of the cultural programme, the group spent the afternoon in the Alhambra - a beautiful palace and fortress complex.

Another day of training in the Universal Mobility was a busy one. The participants of the project learnt more about the phases of a group development and broadened their experience in defining the leader roles and other group roles.

Yesterday, the participants of the training in Granada were exercising different roles of a teacher and on the last day in Granada, they enlarged their knowledge of mentoring in education. After the formal dinner with the workers from the Universal Mobility, everybody received their certificate of a successfully completed training course entitled “Key skills of a modern teacher”.

It was a wonderful week, full of learning and unforgettable experiences!
